LEO KOIVUNEN

PROFILE

I am currently studying to be a software developer at Keuda vocational school in Kerava. However, I have programming experience in web development and C# development. I am motivated and curious about web development. I like to learn new skills and I use my free time for learning. I always like to do my best and develop myself as a person. My passion is web development and you can see it in my projects.

WORK

I don't have a lot work experience, but I've done a lot of programming at home.
